

"See You In Church Sunday"

What Of The Future?

It appears that our "See You In Church Sunday" campaign is securing good results; that more people are in church each Sunday as the campaign progresses. That of course is fine and is appreciated by all the churches. But, what about the Sundays following Easter? The coming of Spring will bring many temptations to absent ourselves from God's House. What we really need is a sustained effort that takes in every Sunday in the year.

As things stand in our world today it is imperative that every man, woman and child stand up and be counted. Time is here when an easy complacency, a dull indifference, or a light carelessness could roll down the river the most cherished things of our civilization. The Easter season is a good time to review our allegiance to Christ and His Church; a good time to determine "as for me and my house we will serve the Lord."

"See You In Church Sunday."

Name Five Census Enumerators Here, G. B. Johnson Crew Leader

Five enumerators have been named in Crawford County to carry out the upcoming 1950 Census under the direction of Clarence B. Johnson, who has been named crew leader for Crawford County.

Mr. Johnson recently returned from Bay City, where he underwent a seven day training period. The training was conducted by Hugh S. Dinsmore, technical instructor with the Bureau of Census.

Named as rural enumerators for Crawford County were Ethel Juanita Boersma, Charles R. Tiffin and Enid Marguerite Smock. Mrs. Emma Lou Visnow and Rowena Mildred Billis were named as the two urban enumerators for the county. All five enumerators took an examination and were then named to the post.

Training for the big job ahead started Monday at 1:30 P. M. in the Grayling American Legion Hall basement and will continue through March 31.

In addition to the enumerators, the crew leader will supervise their work in the field, and check their reports for accuracy and completeness. The crew leader in turn reports for accuracy and completeness. The leader in turn reports to Census Dist. Supervisor Wm. K. Kelly.

Weekly News-Letter

From the Desk of Representative Emil A. Peltz.

The long awaited Special Session of the Michigan Legislature convened on March 15th, and shortly after the opening ceremonies the members of the House and Senate listened to an hour-long message read by Governor Williams.

As we adjourn for the week, after the first three days of the Special Session, there is little for me to report in the way of progress thus far. I shall use this space this week to briefly comment on the Governor's message. It would seem to me that the Chief Executive of the State of Michigan, after calling into a special session, the one hundred and thirty-two Legislators of the State of Michigan, and standing before a battery of microphones ready to carry his voice to all the people in this great State, would on such an occasion be most sincere in the issues that he would choose to discuss.

Prior to calling the Special Session, the Governor had indicated time and again that nothing but emergency legislation would be permitted by him to be considered at this Special Session. There is little in the proposed legislation in his message which can be classified as such. It appears that rather than to serve the people in the State of Michigan with legislation to be enacted at the Special Session, he had chosen to place before us proposed legislation which he knows must be rejected.

Let us take a brief look at the message. My belief is that the Governor was not sincere, nor does he believe as true, the statements he made in his message, is evident in his report on the condition of the state. He says, "the heads of State agencies have performed their tasks faithfully and wisely." Could it be that the Governor has not read the newspapers and discovered the recent turmoil and inefficiency of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, which was exposed by an interim legislative committee of which I am an active member, only a month ago?

Commenting on the budget for the next fiscal year, he admits that the figures might be wrong; yet he sticks to the argument that it will be necessary to raise an additional one hundred and ten million dollars in order to balance the budget. A year ago he had the same argument for a sixty million dollar deficit which did not occur. If he was wrong to the tune of sixty million dollars in 1949, it is very likely that he would make a mistake of one hundred and ten million dollars in 1950. Certainly no new taxes should be raised for general fund purposes until it can be shown that a deficit actually exists.

It was no surprise to us to have the Governor advocate an appropriation from the general fund to partially meet the highway emergency. This is a vote getting scheme to bolster his request for a corporation tax and added political advantage in the rural areas. In the November elections, The Michigan constitution provides that all monies received from gasoline and weight taxes must be used for highway purposes. Likewise it has been the policy, in the past, to have the road users pay for the building and maintenance of such roads. The chief source of general fund revenue is Michigan's 3% sales tax. The Governor claims to be opposed to additional gasoline and weight tax, claiming that such a tax would be a burden on the "little fellow." Yet he would advocate taking eighteen and one-half million dollars out of the general fund, sales tax revenue, which is the tax on food, and everything else used by the consumer, rather than to tax the heavy trucks and others who break up our highway system.

To replace such highways, we would have the mother who buys bread and milk for her baby, pay a sales tax on foods and other necessities to help pay for the highways in the State.

He claims to be in agreement with a highway report of the Michigan Good Roads Federation which was published in 1948. This statement is intended to fool the rural people of Michigan. While he agrees that the distribution formula should be changed to the advantage of the cities, he does not agree that the funds should be raised as proposed in the Good Roads Federation's report. His idea of the necessary changes in highway legislation would be distinct disadvantage to the rural people in Michigan.

In 1949 the Legislature spent much time in the revising of the Unemployment Compensation Law. These changes have been in effect for less than one year. Benefits were increased at that time. Certainly we have had no sharp increase in the cost of living since then which would make it necessary to consider changes in the Unemployment Compensation Law as an emergency at this time.

During the 1949 session, the Legislature voted to keep in effect the recovery of the Old Age Assistance Law. Everyone who understands the recovery act judges it to be sound and fair, yet the Governor insists that heirs that do nothing for their parents should have such parents taken care of by the State at the expense of the taxpayers, but have the same

Kiwanis Club Notes

Fr. John Breitenstein was the main speaker at the Kiwanis Club of Grayling Monday evening which was the first of a series of five programs that the Grayling Ministerial Association is presenting to the club at the request of the Club's "Support of Churches" committee.

Fr. Breitenstein talked on the fundamentals of religion and the Church which proved not only interesting but exceedingly enlightening to most present. He thanked the club in behalf of the Ministerial Association for making possible the series of talks.

He pointed out the fine co-operation of the ministers of varied faiths in putting on the current "See You In Church" campaign and noted that the working together of the various ministers upheld a fundamental Christian virtue of charity towards our fellow man.

The club's project of delivering used magazines has proven such a success that it is nearly impossible to collect enough together from the club members alone to supply the demand. The Kiwanis Club solicits magazines from anyone interested in passing on their magazines to the sick and shut-ins, to leave them at the Davis Jewelry Store. Your help will not only be appreciated by the club and its committee but by those who will receive enjoyment from reading them.

Hold Funeral Services For Ex-Service Man

Funeral services were held for Joseph Bloos, 27, of Crawford County, at the Sorenson Funeral home Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Pallbearers were members of the Grayling American Legion Post and interment was in Lyons Manor Cemetery, Higgins Lake.

Bloos' body was found last Wednesday evening in Beaver Creek township by Sheriff William F. Golinick of Crawford County. A bequest was held Thursday afternoon following an autopsy performed by Dr. Stanley Stealy. Death was ruled due to suicide sometime in February.

Bloos had been seen last by his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Manz, of Crawford County, on February 6. He was born May 14, 1922, and had resided most of his life in Saginaw. He was a veteran of World War II having served from February of 1943 until April of 1946 in the armed forces.

He is survived by his widow, his mother Mrs. Wendell Manz, of Beaver Creek, brother, Andrew, of Beaver Creek, and a sister.

Dawn Patrolling At Grayling Sunday, April 30, 1950

Beamed upon the rays of the dawn sun, Piper, Beechcraft, Luscombe, Stinson, Aeronica — skyscrapers of all makes, kinds, color and description — will wing their way to alight on Grayling's McNamara Airport, Sunday morning, April 30th, for the 3rd Annual Grayling Dawn Patrol. From the North, South, East and West, from all over Michigan and the surrounding States, to "Michigan's Year-Around Sportland," hundreds of civilian pilots and passengers will chart their course to be greeted by the be-whiskered Carrol Wert, Aero-Club President and Chairman of the Dawn Patrol Program. Chief's hat and apron will adorn Wesley LaGrow as he serves piping hot flapjacks to the guests at the end of their flight. An appropriate welcoming show, with exhibits and displays of interest to air-sports, will be presented by Captain John Selesky, Squadron Commander of the Grayling Civil Air Patrol. Doctor Louis Hayes, M. D., the flying medic, will dispense prizes instead of prescriptions to winners of special events.

Noteworthy prizes and just plain "Fly-guys" will have a long-to-be-remembered day, well worth the flight to Grayling, Michigan on April 30, 1950.

It was on the last Sunday of April, 1948, that 450 planes settled out of the wild blue yonder onto the aprons of the Grayling Airfield to make that Dawn Patrol the largest in the history of Michigan's colorful Dawn Patrols. It was on that day that then Governor Kim Sigler, dedicated McNamara Airport to the memory of Charles McNamara, Jr., a pioneer in Grayling aviation circles. Inclement weather in 1949 prevented similar hundreds of aircraft from participating in the outstanding program that had been outlined.

Grayling's Dawn Patrol is sponsored by the Grayling Aero-Club, its over forty members, in co-operation with the Aeronautical Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups on behalf of the whole community. Invite the aviation enthusiasts of Michigan and the surrounding area to Grayling, the summer home of the Michigan National Air Guard.

In addition to the Dawn Patrol, Grayling's Aero-Club sponsors Aviation Week, to be held this year from June 2nd to the 11th. In October, Grayling, on the banks of the World Famous AuSable River, will be the airport of embarkation for the Michigan Aero-Club Color Tour. In the heart of the deer country, with its lakes and trout streams, Camp Grayling, Lake Margrethe and the Hartwick Pines, the surroundings of Grayling offer much that is beautiful to behold from the bird's eyeview.

Scheduled to coincide with the opening day of the Trout Season, and Neighbor Kalkaska's Trout Festival, many of the Dawn Patrol participants will fly home with creels of trout, having come prepared to wade or canoe the AuSable or Manistee Rivers. "Fly-ing" or cruising the streams will be a pleasant interlude preceding the homeward flight.

All skyland lead to Grayling, Michigan, on Sunday, April 30th. The following committees were appointed for the program:

Publicity — The Rev. Fr. John Breitenstein and Clayton McDonnell; invitations — Carrol Wert; breakfast, Wes LaGrow, Ernest Johnson, Les Hunter, John Peterson, Fred Welsh, Les Welch; transportation — Roy McEvers, Alex Atkinson, Thomas Welsh, Charles Mosher, Alfred Hanson; registration — Harvey Rowland, Thane Hendershot; prizes — Dr. Hayes; program — John Selesky; ground control — Sheriff William Golinick, CAP; air control — Herbert McDonnell, CAP.

Hold Joint Youth Meeting

The Joint Youth Fellowship meeting of Grayling was held last Sunday at 5 P. M. in the Free Methodist Church. The young people of the Methodist, Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, Baptist, and Free Methodist Churches filled the church.

The theme of the service was The Church. Rev. Barnes likewise spoke on the theme, but dealing specifically with the reasons one should attend and belong to a church.

The congregational singing was stimulating. For the special singing Mrs. Norval Stephan and her daughter, Pat, sang a duet; Tommy Hilton, Betty Denton, Jean Roberts and Louise Lutz a quartette; Rose Dutton, Jo Ann Korhonen, and Rhea Dunham a trio; all the girls from the four youth groups a girls chorus; and all the boys a chorus.

The date for the next joint Youth Fellowship meeting will be announced at a later date.

Grayling Evangelical Lutheran Church News

The last Sunday of Lent the Passion Story of Our Lord and Saviour will be re-told at our regular services. All are welcome to hear the word.

Illustration of the news

The Michigan State Legislature now in session at Lansing has a hot political potato in its collective grasp.

With present revenues in sight totaling $280 million Governor Williams has proposed that the Legislature authorize expenditures of $340 million for the coming fiscal year, 1950-51.

Simple arithmetic indicates that a deficit of $110 million would be inevitable unless the State Legislature was to turn to new taxation.

Here Governor Williams produces the figurative rabbit out of the hat by suggesting that the Legislature re-consider the state corporations profits tax to be paid largely by industry.

From the Republican point of view, the Governor's message to the Legislature consisted of 89 percent of "politics." Williams is running for re-election, and he seeks to put the Republican Legislature in a tactical position of producing a "do-nothing" record for the 1950 Special Session.

As the Republican leaders bottled up the Corporation Profits tax in committee during the 1949 General Session, there is little likelihood that the Legislature will reverse its position in 1950 which is a political campaign year.

While Governor Williams may seek to put the Republicans on the defensive by attacking the "reactionary" attitude with regard to expanding social needs, the legislative fireworks following the message full indicated that the Governor himself would be under heavy fire for having proposed a 7.8 per cent increase in state bonding.

It is interesting to note that the Governor advocates an increase of only $4.6 millions for operating state departments, of which $2.5 would go to colleges, while he advocates new state aid to home governments in the sum of $25 millions.

Of the $340 million total in legislative appropriations, as recommended by the Governor, $135 million would go to state agencies (Continued on Page Eight) heirs take over any property that remains after the death of the testator. This he also deems of such importance that he must bring it before the Legislature as an emergency during the Special Session.

At the regular session of 1949, the Legislature provided for certain changes in the Commercial Fishing Act. The bill was vetoed by the Governor. He since then found out that part of the bill which he vetoed would have been an advantage to certain fishermen in the Upper Peninsula, and because of the fact that they are members of his own Party, he has chosen to resubmit part of this legislation to us at the Special Session which would favor those who want it in the Upper Peninsula, but has left out the legislation that would change the law for the commercial fishermen on Lake Huron. In other words, while being opposed to the changes for the benefit of those in the Lower Peninsula, he considers it an emergency for those of his Party in the Upper Peninsula, and presents it to the Special Session for the change.

Perhaps the biggest surprise was his proposal for a constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age from twenty-one to eighteen years of age. No one at this time, not even such a change might mean that in addition to voting at the age of eighteen that a person would become of legal age at eighteen in other respects also? Would he become a legal heir at the age of eighteen? Would he be permitted to purchase intoxicating liquor at the age of eighteen? These, and many other questions, are involved in such a radical change. Perhaps such a change is desirable, but certainly it is not of an emergency nature and one that must be considered at a Short Special Session of the Legislature.

Many other comments could be made on the eighteen-point program which he submitted. His message was longer than that submitted by any other Governor during my time as a Legislator. It is evident that it was not intended for the welfare of the people of the State of Michigan. It is also evident that the Governor did not intend or hope that the legislation he proposed will be enacted. He purposely submitted a

What Americans Want

Adolph A. Berle, former Assistant Secretary of State, recently testified before a Congressional subcommittee which was looking into the growth of big business and the possibilities of monopoly. Mr. Berle said, "Americans seem to want an almost unlimited amount of goods of standard quality, at the lowest obtainable price, capable of being bought anywhere, and everywhere, at any time."

"These desires mean big business in some form or other. . . . If an American wants chainstore service—big business as against the old corner grocery store—then he wants a chainstore too." Mr. Berle then went on to point out why it is impracticable to put an arbitrary limit on the size of business.

It will be a grievous mistake if we ever come to believe that mere size, per se, is sure evidence of monopoly. That seems to be the idea back of the government's present anti-trust suit against a big chain store system. But, as hundreds of newspapers have pointed out in their editorial columns this chain has no monopoly and neither has any other retail organization, chain or independent. As a matter of fact, the nearest thing to a real retail monopoly was the old crossroads emporium of the horse-and-buggy days. You bought from it and paid its prices or went without. Now every retailer, regardless of how big he must be, is in direct competition with other stores, every one of which is using every consumer inducement it can devise.

Few businesses were big when they began—they started out in a small way and size was the reward for pleasing the customers. There are small, virtually unknown businesses today which will be big tomorrow—unless destructive governmental laws and policies stop them. There is plenty of room in the country for every kind and size of business, and that's one reason for our unsurpassed living standards.

BY PETE

Continuing the story of the Burned Rollaways.
As the September twilight began settling about the lumbercamp, Clay and Johnny got up from their position on the river bank beside the wagon and moved up the path toward the camp. On a bench in front of the bunkhouse sat the hunchback boy from the cookshanty playing his guitar, while around him were gathered half dozen men harmonizing on some oldtime lumberwoods songs.
Clay and Johnny sat down on the tinder-dry ground and leaned back against a stump to listen awhile. They were singing "Jack Haggarty and his Flat River girl," and both Clay and Johnny grinned at the power they were putting into it. Then the singing changed to "The Jam on Gerry's Rock," and the tempo changed. Here was a song of tragedy that reached deep into the hearts of all rivermen, especially on the eve of the starting of a drive.
"They buried him with sorrow deep. 'Twas on the first of May... Come all of you bold shanty boys... and for your comrade pray... Engraved upon a hemlock tree that by the grave did grow... was the name and date... and the sad fate... of the shanty boy, Monroe." The voices rang out, with more feeling as verse followed verse. Clay nudged Johnny and nodded to the hunchback with the guitar. The boy's thin face was discolored, tears ran down his cheeks and sobs shook his twisted frame as he claved at the strings of the guitar one moment, fingering them lovingly the next.
"He's got an emotional jag on," Clay whispered, "poor kid, there's a lot in him that is never come out. Never will probably." When the song was ended there was an instant of silence that was almost shocked, then the boy ran for the cookshanty, stumbling through the dusk, dragging the guitar behind him, the singers looked after him, shrugged and went into bunkhouse. Clay and Johnny followed them in. After all they might as well get a little sleep, there was a long day ahead. There was still a light up at Bonnie Parker's house when the lamp in the bunkhouse was blown out. How long Clay and Johnny lay awake they never knew.

knew. The wind was rising and shrieking about the bunkhouse roof, and later there was a patter of rain.
Suddenly there was the cry of Fire that bane of the northwoods country in summer time. "Fire, Fire!" Men cursed and tumbled from their bunks groping for stags and breeches, or rushing out in their underwear to stand gazing at the flames leaping high above the rollaways of dry pine logs. Some one struck a match, someone else found the lamp. "Break the Roll-aways!" someone was yelling "Sou's 'em in the river!" Then Bonnie Parker's voice rang out above the shriek of the wind and the excitement of men running and shouting. "Everybody's got homes so go backfire round 'em, this thing's gonna spread! Save your homes, men, save your homes!"

Pleas Action
Against T. B.
A plea for "individual and community action against tuberculosis" was sounded by Mel Truitt, Michigan Tuberculosis Association health lecturer, in a series of talks in this area March 14 to 17.
Truitt spoke in Rapid City, Kalaskas and Lake City March 14; McBain, Cadillac and Mesick, March 15; Merritt, Houghton Lake and Roscommon, March 16; and Frederic, Grayling and Mantion, March 17.
The Christmas seal speaker draws a vivid self-portrait to emphasize his point that "tuberculosis is preventable and every TB death is needless." A former patient himself, Truitt discovered he had the disease through a draft examination. He subsequently spent over two years in Oakland County Sanatorium at Pontiac.
He points out that basic good health practices are a strong protection against tuberculosis, but until the disease is conquered, "everyone must assume responsibility in the fight against it."
"Great strides have been made in the battle against TB," he said, "with further progress awaiting only the application of the same intelligence and energy which have characterized advances in the first half of the Twentieth Century."
Warning that about 30 Michigan people die each week of tuberculosis and that new cases are showing no downward trend, Truitt reported that the TB death rate in Crawford County in the three years 1935-36-37 averaged 34.7 contracted with a rate of 28.3 per hundred thousand in 1948.
"It's no fun to spend months or years of your life in bed, isolated from your family," Truitt told students. "You can learn about tuberculosis now—learn that having a periodic check-up is the only sensible course of action, or you can learn about it as I did from a hospital cot."
The program was presented as a Christmas Seal service of Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

No Job Wanted
By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IT WAS SNOWING when Guy started over the pass. The filling station attendant at Jackson had warned him against it, but Guy had only smiled crookedly. It was early May and a snowstorm of any consequence didn't happen in May, not even in the high country. Besides, the way he felt, it wouldn't make much difference if anything did happen to him. Not even if he perished in the drifts or froze to death. Death would solve all his problems. It would be a relief from worry and hopelessness and bleak despair. Foolish though for a young man 28 years old. But young men can sometimes become pretty wild and desperate in their thoughts. Guy remembered Mr. Moore's cynical smile. "Sorry, son, we haven't a place for you. Full up."

"But not good reporters. I've had experience. Mr. Moore. I'm a good writer. I always scrape up a new angle to a story that makes interesting reading. Besides—" There was desperation in Guy's tone, because Mr. Moore had begun chaffing papers on his desk. "When I wrote inquiring about a job you said you'd be glad to talk to me."

He had driven all the way up from Denver—1,000 miles—because Mr. Moore had said he'd talk to him. It had taken nearly his last dollar to buy enough gas to make the trip. Now he had nothing left but the 5-year-old car. Just about enough to get him back home, from which he'd started out six months ago, bound and determined to land a job on a newspaper. Toward noon Guy understood why the filling station man had warned him. The snow formed an impenetrable wall. The wind was rising and it was colder. Now he was stuck.

Hours passed. Twice Guy thought he heard someone call. The third time he roused up. Through the jangling curtain of snow he saw a figure floundering toward him. He got out. The man was nearly exhausted; his face frost bitten. Guy got him inside the car and turned on the heater full, speeding up the motor. Presently the man looked at him wild-eyed. "My wife! She's sick. We're stuck-up the road."

Guy thought quickly. There was the shack. Apparently the man had passed it in the storm. It must be close by. At any rate, it was their only chance.

AFTERWARD, Guy wondered how he'd found the shack, or what it was that kept him going when the desire to lie down and sleep and forget everything was so strong. It was all like a dream—the way he'd stumbled against the shack itself, found the door and fell inside. He remembered that the wind and cold were shut out. Then he remembered the sick woman.

The place he'd found was a road camp. There was a stove and wood and a few cans of food on the shelf. He got a fire going and placed water on to boil. Then he lunged out into the storm again, fought his way down the road and found the stranger's car. He half-carried, half-dragged the woman up to the shack, and left her there near the stove while he went for the man. The storm lasted two days. It took another day for a rescue party to get through. They took the three of them down to Jackson and to a hospital. Guy was put into a room by himself and fed. Then he went to sleep.

When he awoke Mr. Moore was standing by his bed. "Feeling better, son? Good. How about a story on your experiences? That man you saved was Senator Ostrand."

"The lady wasn't his wife at all. See what I mean? You want a job and we want a story, because Ostrand is on the opposition ticket. Here's your chance, boy."

Guy closed his eyes. Well, why not? he thought. After all, a man has to live, has to look out for himself. Why not? Why not? The thought kept pounding against his brain. Then he opened his eyes. "Sorry," he said. "Sorry, that isn't the kind of job I'm after."

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

In the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford
In Chancery. No. 292

In the Matter of the Petition of Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Grayling in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, on the 11th day of April, A. D. 1950, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the county treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Crawford, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. John C. Shaffer, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Crawford County this 7th day of February, A. D. 1950.

John C. Shaffer,
Circuit Judge.Countersigned,
Leo Lovely, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

In the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford
In Chancery.

In the Matter of the Petition of Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery:

Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent, and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decrees provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

MURI K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

including colleges, $158.3 million to local governments, $27.9 million for capital outlay, and $18.7 million for construction for new roads.

Like the bag of Santa Claus on Christmas eve, the spending program of Governor Williams has something on tap for nearly everyone.

Improvement of local airports is proposed whereby the state could qualify for federal aid and engage in a $7 million airport improvement program. 36 airports in 34 communities would be benefited.

In the Governor's budget for $25 additional millions for state aid to local governments, $5 millions would go to public schools under the sales tax diversion amendment. Under the ruling of the Supreme Court, the state would contribute $9 millions additionally to the public school employee's retirement system. Old age assistance and aid to dependent children would account for an additional $8.7 millions.

Out of the net increase of $4.6 millions for state agencies, $2.5 millions would go to colleges to supplant declining revenue from GI students; $920 thousand for mental health.

Declaring that Michigan had not kept pace with social needs as indicated by our expanding population, the Governor proposed $27.9 millions to construct new buildings at institutions such as mental hospitals, Wayne University, University of Michigan, Michigan State College and Western Michigan College of Education.

A 50-bed addition would be constructed to the Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Gaylord, and other construction under taken for a total of $650 thousand.

Declaring that "our whole economy is being hampered by lack of adequate trunk highways" Governor Williams advocated that the Legislature spend $18.6 additional millions for road repair and construction. These improvements would be financed from the general fund to be covered by the corporations profits tax along with other needs.

Governor Williams took the position that a corporations profits tax would not be paid indirectly by the consumers, despite assertions of Michigan automobile manufacturers that approximately 50 per cent of the cost of a 1950-made automobile consists of direct and indirect taxes.

Within 60 days the issues of the 1950 campaign should be well crystallized.
